

Agatha Christie

The First 3 Miss Marple Mysteries:

- The Murder at the Vicarage
- The Body in the Library
- The Moving Finger

Contents

The Murder at the Vicarage

Cover

Title Page

Dedication

Chapter 1
It is difficult to know quite where to begin this…

Chapter 2
Griselda is a very irritating woman. On leaving the luncheon…

Chapter 3
‘Nasty old cat,’ said Griselda, as soon as the door…

Chapter 4
I had entirely forgotten that we had asked Lawrence Redding…

Chapter 5
It was nearer seven than half-past six when I…

Chapter 6
We puzzled over the business of the clock for some…

Chapter 7
Colonel Melchett is a dapper little man with a habit…

Chapter 8
We were rather silent on our way down to the…

Chapter 9
After leaving a message at the police station, the Chief…

Chapter 10
His remarks on the subject of Miss Marple as we…

Chapter 11
I saw at a glance that Colonel Melchett and Inspector…

Chapter 12
I was summoned to the study when Lawrence Redding arrived.

Chapter 13
I hardly thought it likely that Mrs Price Ridley had…

Chapter 14
On my way home, I ran into Miss Hartnell and…

Chapter 15
Hawes's appearance distressed me very much. His hands were shaking…

Chapter 16
As I went out I ran into Haydock on the…

Chapter 17
Inspector Slack came round to see me the following morning.

Chapter 18
The inquest was held that afternoon (Saturday) at two o'clock…

Chapter 19
'Very glad to have met you,' said Lawrence. 'Come to…

Chapter 20
When I got back to the Vicarage I found that…

Chapter 21
I cannot say that I have at any time had…

Chapter 22
Inspector Slack's orders, once I had got him on the…

Chapter 23
On the way back, I proposed to Griselda that we…

Chapter 24
I returned to the Vicarage to find Hawes waiting for…

Chapter 25
I found it hard to shake off the impression left…

Chapter 26
I was in a strange mood when I mounted the…

Chapter 27
Griselda and Dennis had not yet returned. I realized that…

Chapter 28
I hurried down the village street. It was eleven o’clock,…

Chapter 29
I don’t know how long I sat there—only a…

Chapter 30
We stared at her. I really think that for a…

Chapter 31
Colonel Melchett and I both stared at her.

Chapter 32
There is little more to be told. Miss Marple’s plan…

Credits

The Body in the Library

Cover

Title Page

Foreword

Chapter 1
Mrs Bantry was dreaming. Her sweet peas had just taken…

Chapter 2
It was an idea that was being at that moment…

Chapter 3
In his office at Much Benham, Colonel Melchett received and…

Chapter 4
St Mary Mead was having the most exciting morning it…

Chapter 5
Colonel Melchett was facing a much annoyed hotel manager. With…

Chapter 6
Neither the night porter nor the barman proved helpful. The…

Chapter 7
When they were outside Jefferson’s door, Superintendent Harper said:

Chapter 8
Sir Henry Clithering, as he passed through the lounge of…

Chapter 9
Mrs Bantry was with Adelaide Jefferson. The former came up…

Chapter 10
Superintendent Harper stood looking at the charred and twisted heap…

Chapter 11
A day or two later Colonel Melchett and Superintendent Harper…

Chapter 12
Conway Jefferson stirred in his sleep and stretched. His arms…

Chapter 13
Dr Metcalf was one of the best-known physicians in Danemouth.

Chapter 14
In a quiet hotel room Edwards was listening deferentially to…

Chapter 15
Miss Marple passed out through the french windows of her…

Chapter 16
‘I’m home, Arthur!’ declared Mrs Bantry, announcing the fact like…

Chapter 17
Sir Henry’s face was very grave.

Chapter 18
Sir Henry Clithering said:

Credits

The Moving Finger

Cover

Title Page

Dedication

Chapter 1
When at last I was taken out of the plaster,…

Chapter 2
I am not going to pretend that the arrival of…

Chapter 3
That afternoon we went to tea with Mr Pye.

Chapter 4
It was, I think, about a week later, that Partridge…

Chapter 5
I see that there has been one omission in my…

Chapter 6
The inquest was held three days later. It was all…

Chapter 7
When I got home I found Mrs Dane Calthrop sitting…

Chapter 8
I slept badly that night. I think that, even then,…

Chapter 9
I went and found Megan before leaving the house. She…

Chapter 10
The next week, I think, was one of the queerest…

Chapter 11
On the following day I went mad. Looking back on…

Chapter 12
I don’t know what the usual reactions are of a…

Chapter 13
Things never come when they are expected.

Chapter 14
‘So you see,’ said Mrs Dane Calthrop, ‘I was quite…

Chapter 15
Morning in the High Street.

Credits

About Agatha Christie
The Agatha Christie Collection
www.agathachristie.com

Copyright - The Murder at the Vicarage
Copyright - The Body in the Library
Copyright - The Moving Finger
About the Publisher

OceanofPDF.com

The Murder at the Vicarage

OceanofPDF.com